STORY OF SHIPWRECK

In a Terrific Cyclone in the Pacific Ocean.

STATEMENT OF CAPTAIN WILTZ

Who Denies the Report that He Refused to go After the Castaways. The Mate's Narrative--- A Terrible Experience Which He Says Has Turned Out Eleven Good and True Christiaus .- Their Prayers Answered. Captain's Boat Still Missing.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2 .- Mail to the navy department from Honolulu has brought an interesting story of the wreck of the American ship Wm. A. Campbell, of Thomaston, Me., in a cyclone while on a voyage from Port Townsend to Queenstown in the Pacific ocean, August 26, in latitude 14 north, longtitude 120 west. The story was transmitted by Captain Wiltz, of the United States steamer Boston, and differs from the brief account first received here in one point, and that is the statement by Captain Wiltz that the Boston went after the castaways. Honolulu advices previously received stated that United States Minister Stevens was severely criticised for his failure to send the Beston in quest of the missing sailors. Because of these criticisms the minister prosecuted the editor of the semi-official newspaper at Honolulu, and the overthrow of the tottering cabinet was hastened.

inet was hastened.
Captain Wiltz's statement is that the officers of the Campbell left the ship in two boats, the captain, his wife and little baby in one containing fourteen people, the mate and ten men in the other. The boats separated at the end of two days. At the end of twenty-three days the mate's boat reached a point on one of the Sandwich Islands near the town of Hilo, the crew being in a torrible condition.

The mate's story is as follows:—We lived during the passage on half a tin of water, a tin about the size of a condensed milk can. The water lasted eight days and then we lived on the same allowance of beer, wine or stout. We had no rain at all, in consequence We had no rain at all, in consequence of which we got no more water. In addition to the liquid food we had about three dozen tins of various preserves. We could not possibly have lasted three days longer, and one day more would have killed some of the crew. During the twenty-three days prayers were said by me twice a day. I think I prayed fifty times a day. I think I prayed fifty times a day. Strange to say, all were answered except the prayers for any the said that punishment for our rain. It was a just punishment for our former sins, and it will turn out eleven good and true Christians.

According to Capt. Wiltz, the condition of the boat's crew on laudiffg was as follows: Two severe and eight other cases of scurvy; the majority were suf-fering from boils and blisters. Many had to be lifted and carried from the had to be lifted and carried from the boat by the natives to the house of the sheriff of the district in which they landed. On hearing of their arrival, the United States steamer Boston left Honolalu September 28, reaching Hilo September 30, and took the mate and crew on board. She then went to sea and cruised for two days over the water on which it was possible that the captain's boat might be found but without success. Captain Wiltz regards the chances of the boat's crew good, in view of the fact that to reach Hilo from the scene of the wreck they would be obliged to cross the tracks of would be obliged to cross the tracks of four lines of vessels and it is possible that they may already have been picked

ATTORNEY-GENERAL MILLER Will Retire from the Cabinet Whether Harrison Is Re-elected or Not.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 .- A special from Indianapolis says Attorney General W. H. H. Miller will retire from the cabinet soon after the election whether Harrison is re-elected or not. He has formed on is re-elected or not. He has formed a law partnership in this city, his former home, and will move back here about the first of January. The friends of the attorney-general here say that official life has never been congenial to him, furthermore he feels that his law practice here will be much more lucrative than the official position.

Mrs. Miller, too, it is said, has never been content with Washington life.

Murder in a Brothel.

Louisville, Nov. 2 .- Albert Wing killed his wife, Meriman Wing, in a brothel in this city last night and escaped through a window. The woman's caped through a window. The woman's throat was cut and she received a fatal knife wound in the heart. Both were of prominent Kentucky families, but the girl went astray when young. Wing served in the Missouri penitentiary for killing a man. He subsequently married the woman in a house of ill fame, but they had not lived together for several months. It is thought the murders will be caught.

Black Horse Compels An Indian Agent to

Make Some Rash Promises. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2 .- The only information received at the Indian Bureau of the reported trouble among the Navajos in New Mexico and Arizona is contained in the following message from Agent Shipley, Fort Defiance, A. T., Oct. 30. To the Hon. Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington B. C.

On the 24th I started my interpreter, police and wagons to Round Rock, where I had the promise of 25 or 30 children from Navajos. On the way north two of my police I sent to the Carissee mountain district, and when in that district, Black Horse, who claims to be the chief adviser, found that I was at Round Rock with my party, and he, with about thirty or forty, came to Round Rock and insisted that I must not take any children to the agency school, notwithstanding I had the promise and consent of the parents. I stated to Black Horse that sooner or later they might be compellington D. C. sooner or later they might be compelled to send their children to school, when he immediately became angry, and jumped upon me, and with the assistance of ten others of his mon forcibly ance of ten others of his men forcibly took me out of the store and intended to kill me, when the friendly Navajos and my police tore me away and hurried me into the store. At the same time one of my scouts was assaulted and beaten up to such an extent that fears were entertained for his recovery. After the fracas was over Black Horse and his followers then threatened to kill my staff, Interpreter Chee, Mr. Subbell and Charles Mitchell, unless I promised not to ask for any more children in this section or in any other part of the reservation, and after considerof the reservation, and after consider ing the critical situation I acceded to their demand, feeling that I was power-less to do anything and completely at the mercy of Black Horse and his followers. I now most respectfully request authority for the use of a sufficient number of troops to force Black Horse and his followers to furnish children for the schools. Will write full particlars by mail.

Very respectfully, ing the critical situation I acceded to

Very respectfully,
DAVID SHIPLEY,
United States Indian Agent.

Speculation at the Stock Exchange was less active than for some time past, and the duliness is attributed to the near approach of the presidential election, which occupies the attention of the street to the exclusion of almost everything else. The duliness was taken advantage of to raid the dilarent shares which yielded 4 to $6 per cent, outside of New England, Lake Shore, American Sugar and Northern Facilite preferred, the decline in which was about a point in each case. Final sales were at a recovery of $6 to $6 per cent. The industrial group was quiet and quotations closed about the same as on yesterday. The market closed steady in tone.

Brendstuff's and Provisious.

Brendstuff's and Provisions.

CHICAGO, Nov 2.—A strong rally after an intervalves. The stronghous was the feature of to-day's markets. The stronghous tended into all pits, lifting both cereals and provisions. Price changes from last night, however, are not remarkable. In wheat at the start there was parsenuly agoneral feeling of encouragement, and free liquidation increased by rains throughout the winter wheat district. Counselinan was out with a statement that all reports connecting his house with a squeeze of May are utterly without foundation, and that he really feels very bearlsh on the market. This was followed by weak cables, which increased the depression, and selling was for a time urgent and victous. Later, however, operators began to feel that perhaps tray had not take back the property. Corr was weak during the first hour and sold off sharply, influenced largely by the downward tendency in wheat In the afterneon when wheat began to react, even quickly followed.

Oats were stordy now to tite day. Provisions active and higher.
